TREVOSE, PA – June 8th, 2009 – Senior Care Centers of America, the second largest operator of adult day health centers in the United States, announced that it has completed a provider agreement with Moorestown, NJ-based RevolutionCare for on-site primary medical care services. RevolutionCare is now a provider of on-site, primary care services for Senior Care Centers of America’s NJ and PA centers.

One of the fastest growing options in the health care industry, adult day health centers provide a structured daytime program of health, social services, and activities in a safe, caring environment, enabling elderly and disabled clients to live at home and remain in their communities.

The declining number of primary care providers in the community, and the fact that only 2% of medical residents plan to go into community-based primary care, has made access to primary care services more challenging than ever.

The two main attributes of RevolutionCare that are essential for improved primary care and access to service include: 1) geriatric and specialty nurse-practitioners as primary care providers; and 2) a mobile care model. “We have been in search of the optimal on-site primary care provider for our clients”, reports Jim Donnelly, CEO of Senior Care Centers of America. “RevolutionCare’s mobile care model enables on-site care and access to web-based medical record data.”

According to Donnelly, the benefit to Senior Care clients and their caregivers includes convenient access to medical care, time savings, and in some cases, eliminates days off from work to coordinate transportation. “This primary care services agreement with RevolutionCare will enable Senior Care to spend more time on its core client care services. This is just one more added convenience for our clients’ caregivers.” Donnelly said.

The mission of RevolutionCare is to provide an innovative, coordinated, patient-centered care model. “We are delighted to partner with Senior Care Centers of America”, stated Calvin H. Knowlton, BSPHarm, MDiv, PhD, CEO, of RevolutionCare, Inc. “Our geriatric and specialty trained primary care nurse practitioners are unique in their holistic approach to the care of geriatric clients, including those with cognitive disabilities such as Alzheimer’s Disease. Our focus on illness prevention and health maintenance is proven to reduce the risk of emergency department and hospital admissions.”

Providing home-based medical care services at Senior Care Centers of America, where patients are most comfortable, improves RevolutionCare’s ability to achieve client care goals. On-site access to electronic medical records enhances communication amongst providers, Senior Care staff, and mutual clients.

About Senior Care Centers of America Since the founding in 1988, Senior Care has developed a growing network of more than 20 adult day health centers located in four states (Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut, and Mississippi). It is the second largest provider of adult day care centers in the United States, based on number of locations. The company is the leading independent provider in its core markets. Each of its adult day health centers enable frail, elderly, and disabled adults to live at home and remain independent in their communities while receiving health care and supervision during the day. This provides relief and needed respite for caregivers. For more information, visit www.seniorcarectrs.com, or call 215-642-6600.

About RevolutionCare, Inc.

RevolutionCare provides home-based, primary medical care services for ‘medically isolated’ vulnerable individuals, the majority of whom are seniors. The proprietary, web-based, SaaS (Software as a Service) clinical informatics platform, Eirene™, offered by CareKinesis, Inc., enables the mobile care model, including real-time access to medical records and practice management tools thereby increasing accuracy and efficiency.
